

Benjamin Lesné

Web Developer

As a web development enthusiast, I spend a tremendous amount of time on the tech Twitter, blogs, videos and programming books.
I have contributed to open source projects including the MDN JavaScript documentation.
And I dream of becoming a tech content creator!

L.I.C.A. | Marseille

Front-end Developer

"Platform" project: event management and candidate follow up website. Several "child" applications derived from a "mother" application have been created in order to satisfy different customer needs (Réalise Tes Rêves, Marseille Capital de la mer, FFTDA and many others!)

Technical Stack : JavaScript, React, TypeScript, Ruby on Rails, M.U.I., Jest, Zustand, Playwright, Gitlab, Docker, SQL, Git, API REST, HTML, CSS, Scalingo

Accomplished tasks :

- creation of an internal library
- I proposed and implemented:
 - a migration from C.R.A. to Vite (which reduced build time by 50%)
 - end-to-end tests with Playwright (which made the software more stable)
 - a Gitlab pipeline (automatic deployment, tests before merge)
- wrote documentation (for users and developers) with Docusaurus
- implemented a WebSocket
- CI/CD manager

○ 2022 - 2023

Wyplay | Marseille

Front-end Developer

"SKY" project : Netflix-like" android TV application for Sky Network Television.

"Premium" project: Android TV web3.0 application with an NFT marketplace and a blockchain.
